Benefits of Data Sources

- Surveys have various strengths
  - ACS: large sample size
  - AHS: detailed housing data
  - NHANES: detailed health information
  - PSID and SIPP: longitudinal data
AHS & Disability Measures - Supplements

- Disability Supplements to the AHS
  - Conducted in 1978 and 1995
  - Disability
    (difficulty entering home, in-home mobility, personal activities, vision, hearing, need for modification/assistance due to a physical limitation)
  - Home modifications
    (ramps, handrails, wide doors/hallways, etc.)
AHS & Disability Measures – Benefit Receipt

- Receipt of disability benefits
  - Received SSDI, workers’ compensation, veterans’ disability payments, or other disability payments
  - Received Supplemental Security Income (SSI)
Six limitation questions:

- Deafness or serious difficulty hearing
- Blindness or serious difficulty seeing
- Serious difficulty concentrating, remembering, or making decisions
- Serious difficulty walking or climbing stairs
- Serious difficulty dressing or bathing
- Difficulty doing errands alone

People with Disabilities | People without Disabilities
Differences in Housing and Neighborhood Characteristics by disability status are significant when controlling for other variables.

Above differences are amplified for people with multiple limitations or who receive SSI.
Disability is a significant determinant of housing-assistance receipt

The benefit of housing assistance varies by disability status

For people with disabilities, housing vouchers and low-cost mortgages are the most beneficial housing programs
What’s Missing from the AHS?

- Measurement of Disability
  - Missing groups? People with work-limitations, people with mental disabilities
  - Detailed information on disability (severity, onset, specific diagnoses, functional status)

- Exclusion of certain living quarters
  - Transient accommodations, barracks, institutional-type quarters

- Limited subgroup analyses

- Longitudinal Information
